

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

NeoTool Customer Achieves 'Top 25 Connected Healthcare' Recognition

Radiology Ltd. Recognized in Health Imaging & IT Magazine for Integrated Workflow Successes

PLANO, Texas, October 9, 2006 – Radiology Ltd. was recognized in Health Imaging & IT as being one of the “Top 25 Connected Healthcare Facilities” in the US.

“We are excited about the recognition that Radiology Ltd. has received as one of the Top 25 connected healthcare facilities,” said Phil Guy, CEO of NeoTool. “Their focus on workflow has enhanced services to their clients as well as increased productivity for their team. It is a powerful combination that deserves recognition.”

As the Healthcare Imaging & IT article highlights “Radiology Ltd.’s commitment to technology integration has positively impacted patient care as well as business processes. Moving to paperless workflow has resulted in a 40 percent increase in efficiency, allowing radiologists to expand their services to new outpatient locations.”

Radiology Ltd. uses NeoTool's healthcare integration engine to connect various radiology and healthcare systems and support their workflow efforts.

“We are pleased with the recognition that we received,” said Ron Cornett, PACS Administrator for Radiology Ltd. “By focusing on our customers and selecting the best technology to support our workflow efforts, we will continue to streamline our processes and deliver a higher level of service.”
